Celebrations Around The World

Thanksgiving

Thanksgiving is celebrated in the United States on the fourth Thursday in November. It is one of the most important festivals in North America. It is a time for family and friends to give thanks for each other and the good in their lives. It celebrates the Pilgrims first harvest in the new world almost 400 years ago, in 1621. At that time a meal was shared between the Pilgrims and the Native Americans. They gave thanks to God for surviving their first year in the new land. Today, on Thanksgiving, turkey is eaten because the early settlers had to catch the wild turkeys. Stuffing, potatoes, cranberry sauce, bread, pumpkin pie, apple pie, and much more are shared for the Thanksgiving feast.

Question of the week:

Almost 400 years ago we celebrated what?
